Acts 8:26-40

Introduction

To begin this moment of prayer for Senegal, let us open our Bibles and read the passage above two or three times, asking the Holy Spirit to speak to us.

The following prayer points are inspired by this text.

Senegal

- Were you able to read the passage in your mother tongue? What a privilege! Pray that God's Word would be accessible to all the Senegalese people groups in their mother tongue. Pray especially for the Bible translation projects into Wolof and the Fouta Toro dialect of Fula that are almost finished.
- Many Senegalese are very zealous for God. They are ready to make the right sacrifices to please God like the Ethiopian who went all the way to Jerusalem to worship God (Acts 8:27). Pray that the Lord reveals Himself to them via His disciples, through reading the Prophets, and through miracles, dreams, and visions.

- The Senegalese are full of joy. They love to laugh and play, but their joy is often tarnished by life's difficulties... Oh that many Senegalese, like the Ethiopian, find in Jesus eternal joy (Acts 8:39).

Missionary Work

- Pray for courageous and obedient workers, like Philip, ready to go where the Holy Spirit leads them, including desert climates (Acts 8:26).
- Many of our new workers are praying for guidance as to which people group and what area to serve the Lord in. Pray that they will clearly hear the Holy Spirit's voice and receive His leading with joy and enthusiasm (Acts 8:26-27).
- "How can I, unless someone instructs me?" (Acts 8:31 NLT) The heart cry of the Ethiopian is echoed in Paul's letter to the Romans: "And how can they hear about him unless someone tells them?" (Romans 10:14 NLT). Senegal needs courageous and Spirit-filled disciples of Jesus, capable of explaining the Gospel in a contextualized manner and in their heart language, happy to speak about Jesus and His kingdom. Faith comes from what one hears, and what one hears comes from the word about Christ (Romans 10:17).

New Believers

- The Ethiopian believed and was baptized. He understood what he needed to do and did not hesitate (Acts 8:36-38). Pray that the Holy Spirit shows new followers of Jesus what the next step is and that they can take it with joy. Pray that each step of their new life is illuminated by God's love.

The Senegalese Church

- Philip was so close to the Lord that he clearly heard His voice and obeyed without delay (Acts 8:26, 29-30, 40). Pray for a Senegalese church filled with the Holy Spirit, strength and courage, pushed by their love for God and neighbor and eager to see the Senegalese peoples turn to the Lord.
